Packer's 21 Duh Bears 14

A lot of games have been played between duh bears and the Packers, 182 to be exact, but none meant more to these two teams than last Sunday's game. This was a chance for Chicago to prove that this was not a fluke season, prove they did not deserve the role of underdog and bring the George Halas trophy home the Chicago. For the Pack it was a chance to redeem themselves for all the preseason predictions that picked them as odds on favorites to win the Super Bowl, only to seemingly falter in midseason. Most importantly for Green Bay, it was a chance for the them to stop duh bears from bring home the much bigger trophy, the Lombardi trophy and returning it to its rightful owner, the Packers. They say stats don't tell the whole story and on Sunday, that was the case. Rodgers, on paper, had one of his worst outings of the season (17 of 30 for 244 yards, no

TD's and TWO Ints., a 55.4 QBR). Jay cutler had a QBR of 31.8, Todd Collins was slightly better, a 39.6 QBR

(with no completions) and top honors went to Caleb Hanie with a 65.2 QBR (good thing he threw 2 BIG Ints.) Starks ran for 74 yds on 22 carries, most of that coming late in the game. The Pack

174 was our closest count from last Sunday. What a celebration in the end. Thank you for making our project 115 more successful than Atlanta's. Our club continues to grow showing the world who has the best fans in the world. The Corner Pocket gave us two extra $10 gift cards, they went to members Wendy Muszynski #211 & JP Plantz #240. The $10 gift card from The Corner Pocket for the trivia winner went to Sharon Schulz #132.

Once again, over 30 regular door prizes were awarded, including Packer Watches to Nancy Schmidt #129, Gary Gandy #162, Barbara Gambrell

#221 & Conner McCarrager #247. Packer tee-shirts went to Mike Konruff #167, Sherry Williams #281, Phil Bender #156, Kent Sargent #127 and Packer pens went to Penny Siperley #225 & Lynn Coleman #282.

Winners on one $1 pool were Tom Becker #108, Gerald Schulz #131 & Jamie Ware #101 (twice). Winners on the other $1 pool were Christine Harri-was a miserable 2 of 11 on third downs, only surpassed by Chicaco's 1 of 13 and yet, the Packers won. Penalties was one area I was concerned about on Sunday, but unlike the first game between duh bears and the Pack; it was Chicaco that had the bigger laundry pile, 9 for 84 yards to our 6 for 40. Perhaps more importantly was that 3 of their penalties gave us first downs (one being Peppers hit on Aaron). Much of the credit has to go to our defense. Chicaco is the one that usually makes plays on defense to win games, but this time it was the Green and Gold inflecting the pain. Clay Matthews and Cullen Jenkins combined for one sack and made all three Chicaco QBs uncomfortable all day, while the big man, Raji, rumbled for an 18 yard pic six. In the end, the game ball belongs to Sam Shields. He did it all, from sacking Cutler once, breaking up 2 passes, 4 tackles and last but not least, 2 HUGH interceptions (1 to stop a Chicaco drive and the other to end duh bears season). Special team's also deserves some kudos too. With the field in bad condition, both teams were unwilling to try the long field goals, electing instead to pin each other back on their own goal line. Tim Masthay won this battle, punting 8 times, 5 inside the 20 (several of these inside the 5), launching one for 65 yards and somehow managed to keep Devin Hester from making any noise all day (his longest return being 11 yards). We won the battle of defense, special teams and penalties while the offense was good enough to win, ugly, but then again, most Packer bear games are. Next up is Pittsburgh. I heard someone say that Chicaco was able to shut Aaron down so the Stealers were going to be paying special attention to that game film. I say that nothing useful can be taken from that game. Soldier Field was a mudders track on Sunday. Receiver could not get their footing and timing was off on the long ball because of this. Dalass will be a cleaner, faster track. Two Sundays from now, the Packer thoroughbreds will be running wild on the plains of Texas. Since both teams sport the gold, we must all do like I do, BLEED GREEN my friends. (JW)

It's Membership drive time again

Procrastinator's beware, the Packers are down to their last game of the season and so are you. The new prices ($25 renewal & $30 New members) go into affect at the end of the Super Bowl game. You have one last shot at this years renewal of $20 for your 2011 memberships. New members cost will still be $30 but this includes membership for the Super Bowl and 2011 too. So the office crew can enjoy the game along with you, we ask that you sign up before the game and at half time only.
